What's new in BlackBerry Email Compression for Enterprise?

1

BlackBerry Email Compression for Enterprise is a new data compression tool by BlackBerry for customers who are concerned about data costs. Data cost reduction varies depending on regional data costs, organizations' data plans, and administration of networks. BlackBerry Email Compression for Enterprise provides the following:

- Compression of all inbound email for all compressible text email content (for example, body text, HTML, news articles)
- IT policy rules to control user access to compression features
- Compression up to 50% better than industry-standard Gzip
- Compatibility with S/MIME email bodies
- Basic logging to measure compression savings

Fixed issues

2

No customer reported software issues associated with BlackBerry Email Compression for Enterprise were fixed in this release.

Known issues

3

BlackBerry is not aware of any customer reported software issues associated with BlackBerry Email Compression for Enterprise.
